

FOUGHT TEN MEN IN A LOCKED SHOP

Policeman Walsh Held Prisoner and Friends at Bay Till Help Came.

WAS BATTLE FOR LIFE.

Butcher, Arrested, Led Attack with Scale Bar and Fight Raged Half an Hour.

Showing evidence of a desperate fight for life, Patrolman James J. Walsh was in Essex Market Court today. He had fought yesterday afternoon for half an hour behind the locked doors of a butcher shop, while outside a mob of about 2,000 surged and yelled, crying "Kill him." The reserves from Union Market station rescued him. The butcher shop, owned by Samuel Kaufman, of No. 267 East Eighth street, is at No. 320 Avenue C. There had been a street fight near Kaufman's place, in which Edward Roth, of No. 72 Ninth street, got a couple of black eyes. Walsh got into the crowd, and Kaufman rushed in, demanding that he arrest Roth. When the policeman refused, Kaufman got angry and grabbed Walsh by the collar. He became so violent that he was arrested. Then the crowd closed in and rushed the prisoner and captor into Kaufman's shop. Eight or ten men got inside and some one locked the door. Then Walsh drew his club, which he needed every minute for the next half hour. Kaufman led the attack with a heavy iron scale bar. His wife and eight-year-old daughter, Francis, also joined in as well as the man. Blood flowed from several heads that got next to the cop's body. Walsh's coat was torn to pieces and he was down several times and badly beaten. Finally the police came in. Head first through a broken window, and with Walsh kept things steady until the arrival of the reserves. In police court today Kaufman was held on the charge of assaulting an over in Essex hall. His wife, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged, and Jacob Eaden, of No. 134 Avenue C, was fined $2.

HARVARD OARSMEN RETURN IN GLOOM

Explain Their Defeat by Saying Cambridge Had the Better Crew.

Most of the defeated Harvard eight who went down before Cambridge returned today on the American liner St. Louis. Those who returned were Coxswain Francis M. Fladon, who is accused by English critics with being responsible for the defeat; Robert L. Bacon, Sidney W. Fish, Philip W. Flint, E. D. Morgan, John Richardson, Jr., and Robert Tappan. Capt. O. D. Flley and B. A. Newhall, No. 7, remained abroad. "We were fairly beaten," Cambridge had the best crew. But we had a bulky good boat, was all that the vanquished would say. Fladon was asked if he had any reason for the defeat of Harvard other than those published. The coxswain made no reply to the criticisms aimed at his training, but merely said: "Cambridge was the best crew." Gordon Beardswood, representative of St. C. Hedin's champion quarter mile sprinter, said that the members of the crew sat gloomily around on the deck during the entire trip back, taking no part in the games. Gen. McCusker Butt, of the New York National Guard was among the passengers who returned today. He said he had been automobiling in France and Germany and had been watching the foreign army maneuvers. Former Assistant District Attorney Rand was at the pier to meet his sister, Mrs. Henry W. Chandler, who returned with her husband and family. The St. Louis had a quiet trip, but was delayed by fog.

IF YOU WERE THE MAN IN THE MOON,

And Could See Everything, the Eloquence of the Greatest Orator on Earth Could Not Keep You from Banking Your Money on

EAST WILLISTON

New York's Bang-up New 30-Minute Suburb

Real estate men can talk up this and that location to their hearts' content, but when the big eye of the public has made a complete investigation and comparison of all the properties, "THERE'S NOTHING TO IT BUT EAST WILLISTON!"

Brooklyn has coined a mint of wealth out of its real estate. So has the Bronx. But the real stupendous money will be made from the high lands of Long Island. The rise in the value of Long Island properties has already started, with an impetus that's astonishing. Everybody who has an extra dollar and knows the facts is either purchasing or making preparations to purchase high-lying Long Island real estate before the good locations have all been bought up. It's where the Greater City will keep on spreading. It has the natural beauty, and with the metropolitan improvements being installed it'll be the surpassing residential place of America.

Think what it will mean to live where Nature is, where there are picturesque landscapes, and still have city improvements and be within thirty minutes of the center of Uptown!

So come to East Williston to-morrow! Investigate our marvellous promise while you can make the big money! If you can't come in the morning come in the afternoon. Get down to the East 34th Street Ferry in time to catch our FREE chartered trains leaving at 2.10 and 2.20 P. M. If you live in Brooklyn take regular train leaving Flatbush Avenue Station at 2 P. M. This train connects at Jamaica with chartered trains.

You'll find our representatives DRESSED IN WHITE at the ferry and the stations with FREE RAILROAD TICKETS good on any train for everybody.

Large lots or building sites now marked $100 to $500 in this sensational Introductory Sale at East Williston will be worth at least three or four times these prices in less than two years. They'll be worth twice these prices next year. The wave of expectancy founded on colossal improvements contracted for dominates an investing public so thoroughly that every person wise to the truth realizes there's only one thing left for all the properties situated between Garden City and Roslyn. These properties cannot do anything else than continue to grow enormously in value, because they're in the finest and most accessible location there is. And East Williston is the charm of them all, with two depots, making it the only best spot that'll be traversed by the fast subway trains. To people outside of New York, or strangers to the conditions which are causing the city's expansion, these statements may seem overdrawn, but to one who has made investigation they're as plain as the nose on your face. And what's great about the whole proposition is that you can come in and grow up with this tremendous real estate development by paying as little as $10 when you select your lot, and then $5 each month on balance.

New York would not have to grow any faster in the future than it has in the past for that $10 to start you on the road to making a clear three or four thousand dollars.

Gray heads said that business would stop at 23d street and that the Brooklyn Bridge was the greatest achievement that could ever happen. But hasn't business gone away up beyond 23d street? And aren't the East River Subways greater achievements than the Brooklyn Bridge or any of the bridge?

Still, New York wouldn't have to grow even as fast as it did to get the bridges, or to send business up beyond 23d street, to give you two to three thousand dollars on any purchase you may make at East Williston. Nevertheless, the growth of New York is sure to be greater in the next ten years than any mortal could predict. Its increase of trade with the world is making it greater, and nothing except the chaining of the stars, with airships to every one, could give it more exceptional transportation than it will have as soon as the great East River Subways have been completed.

The prices for the large building sites of East Williston, with stipulations which will protect the quality of each lot, range from

$100, $125, $150, $175, $200, $225, $250,
$275, $300, $325, $350, $375, $400,
$425, $450, $475, $500,

on terms of $10 first payment and $5 monthly for balance, with 10 per cent. discount for cash.
